Does your Workers Compensation insurer act as a partner with your best interest in mind when claims occur?

Bill Borgiel of Lutz Roofing shares his experience:

“Lutz Roofing has been a member of the CAMComp unique workers' compensation program for nearly 20 years and has been very beneficial to our company.

Prior to CAMComp, the various workers' compensation carriers our company used were large and bureaucratic. Commercial roofing can be a dangerous occupation. We needed a workers' compensation carrier who would be there in the unfortunate event that an employee was injured on a jobsite.

We also wanted to have a carrier that would aggressively fight frivolous workers' comp claims.

CAMComp has a family atmosphere which we love. And should a problem occur, we can attest, they have the resources and talent to handle the most sophisticated claims with 100% care and efficiency.

The CAMComp dividend returns are also a terrific benefit to members. We believe that with CAMComp, Lutz Roofing has a true advantage in the industry.”
